

Candidacy for International Secretary

Key-points in my motivation for running as International Secretary:

- Make project-initiatives easier and more available
- Increase the number of representations in different international projects
- Implement my experience from the past year as International Secretary in future and more ambitious project

My name is Dogukan Jesper Gür, and I am running for another term as International Secretary. My past year in this position has gained me and immense amount of experience and brought our organization numerous partnerships, which I want put into work with another year in this position. One of my goals for another year is to make our ties to JEF and other international organizations more clear so that the individual member can have the most of our relations to other organizations. We as an international organization should have numerous representations in different events, conferences and also international projects ongoing. In my function as International Secretary, we have achieved this why I have more ambitious plans on the table for another year as International Secretary. A goal with regards to this is to increase the number of participants/delegations from our organization in international events, create more twinning-programs among the local sections and to host and create an international seminar this coming year as JEF Denmark while making this a tradition for the coming years. We have a great potential and many opportunities as an organization to be more successful in our international activity. I believe that with my competences and experience in this position, we will achieve the most of this and give the individual member a greater spectrum of opportunities to engage in EU-related projects internationally. I therefore run for another term in my current position and ask for your confidence to continue in my work.

European Regards!
